1990-2020: Thirty years of Oklahoma fine arts instruction

Preliminary research findings

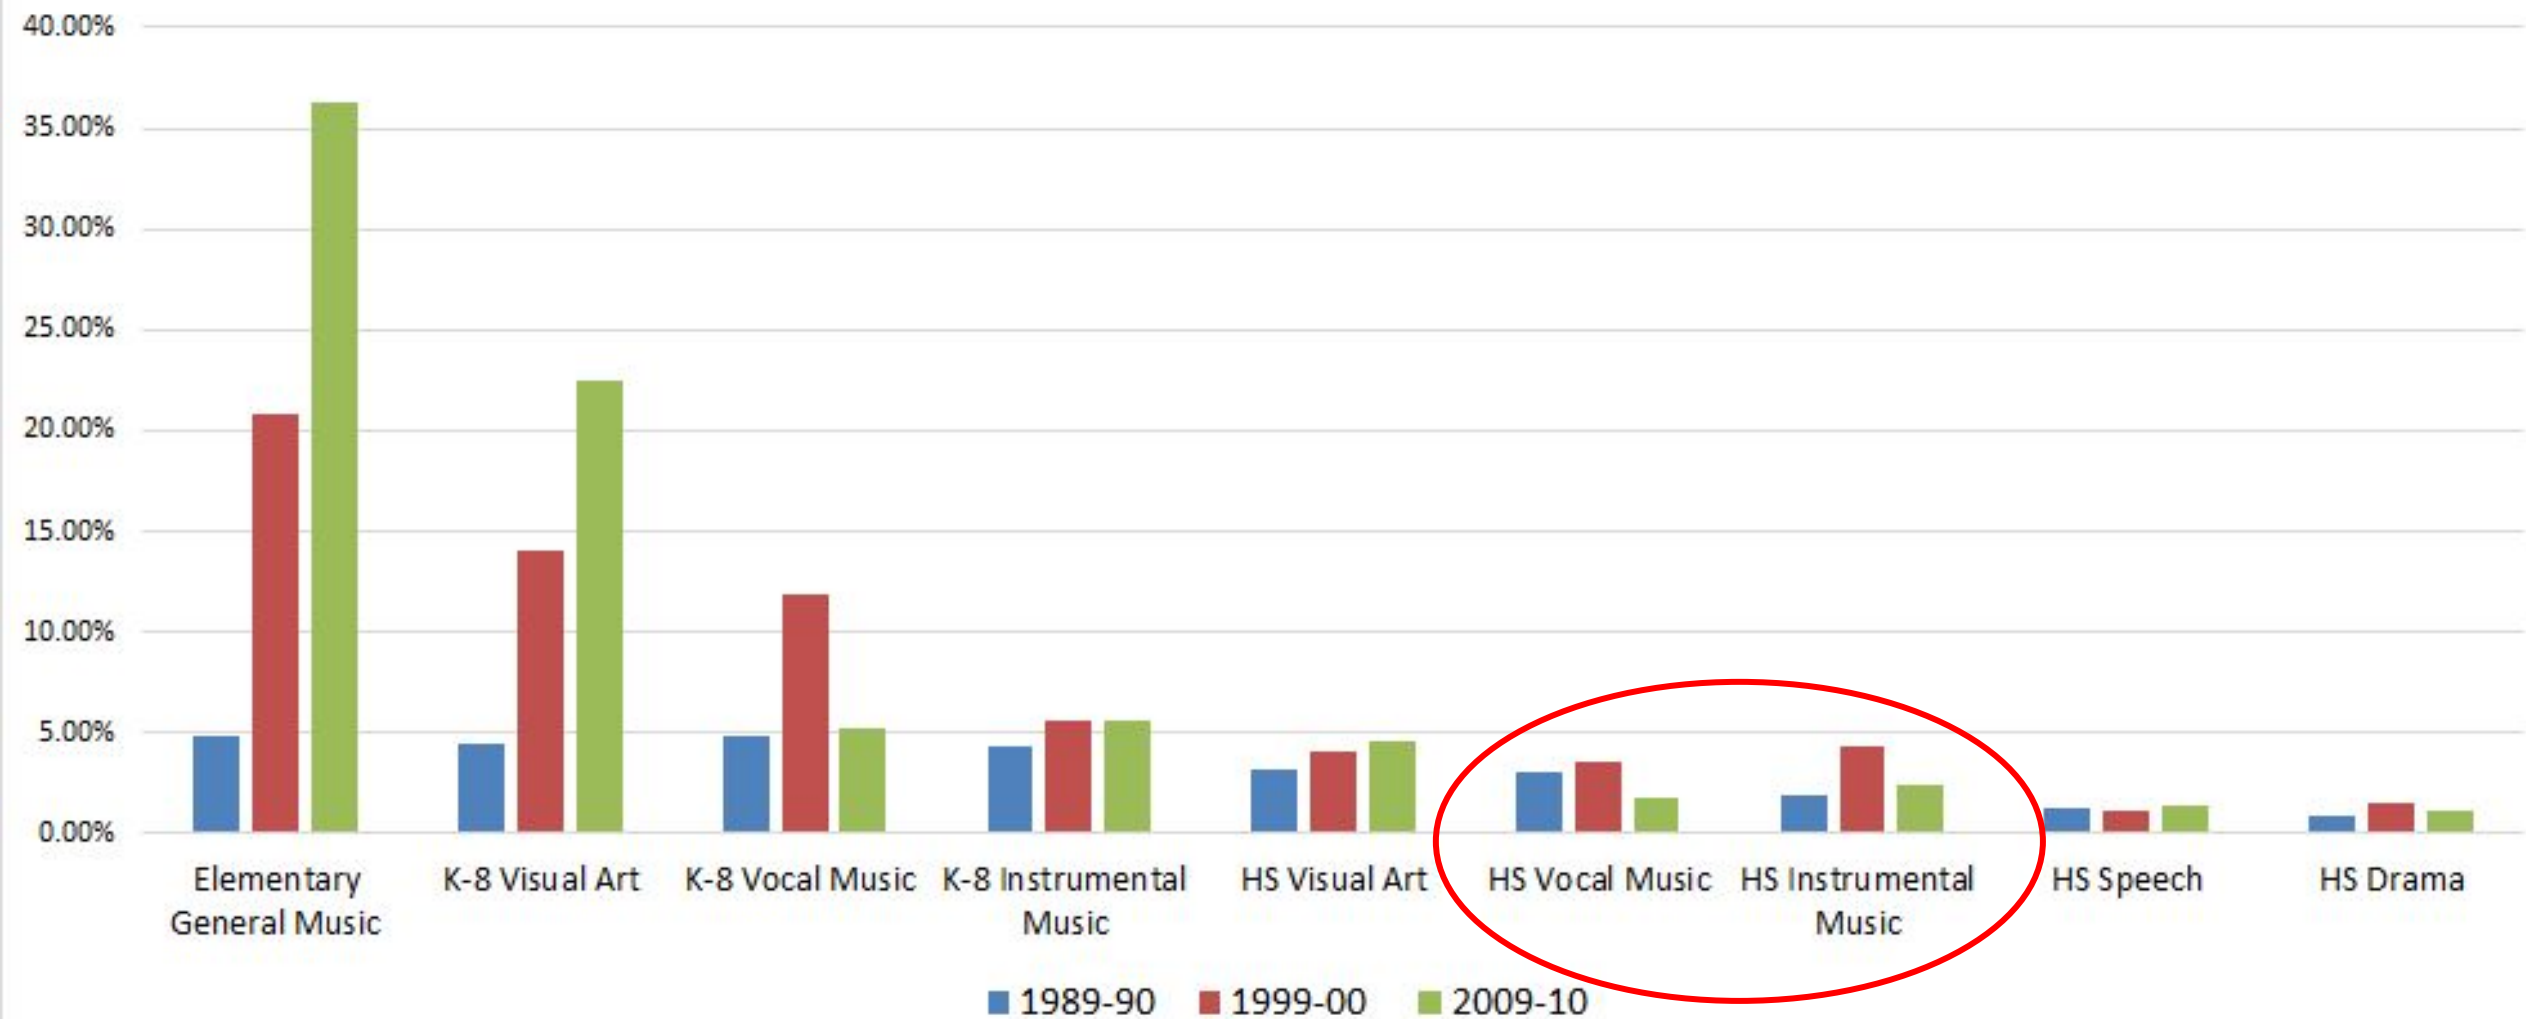

Percentage of Students Enrolled

Data obtained from classroom enrollment counts

Percentage of Students Enrolled

Data obtained from classroom enrollment counts

Data Changes

High school instrumental music enrollment:

1999-00 - 26,979 students (4.3%)

2009-10 - 15,965 students (2.44%)

High school vocal music enrollment:

1999-00 - 22,216 students (3.54%)

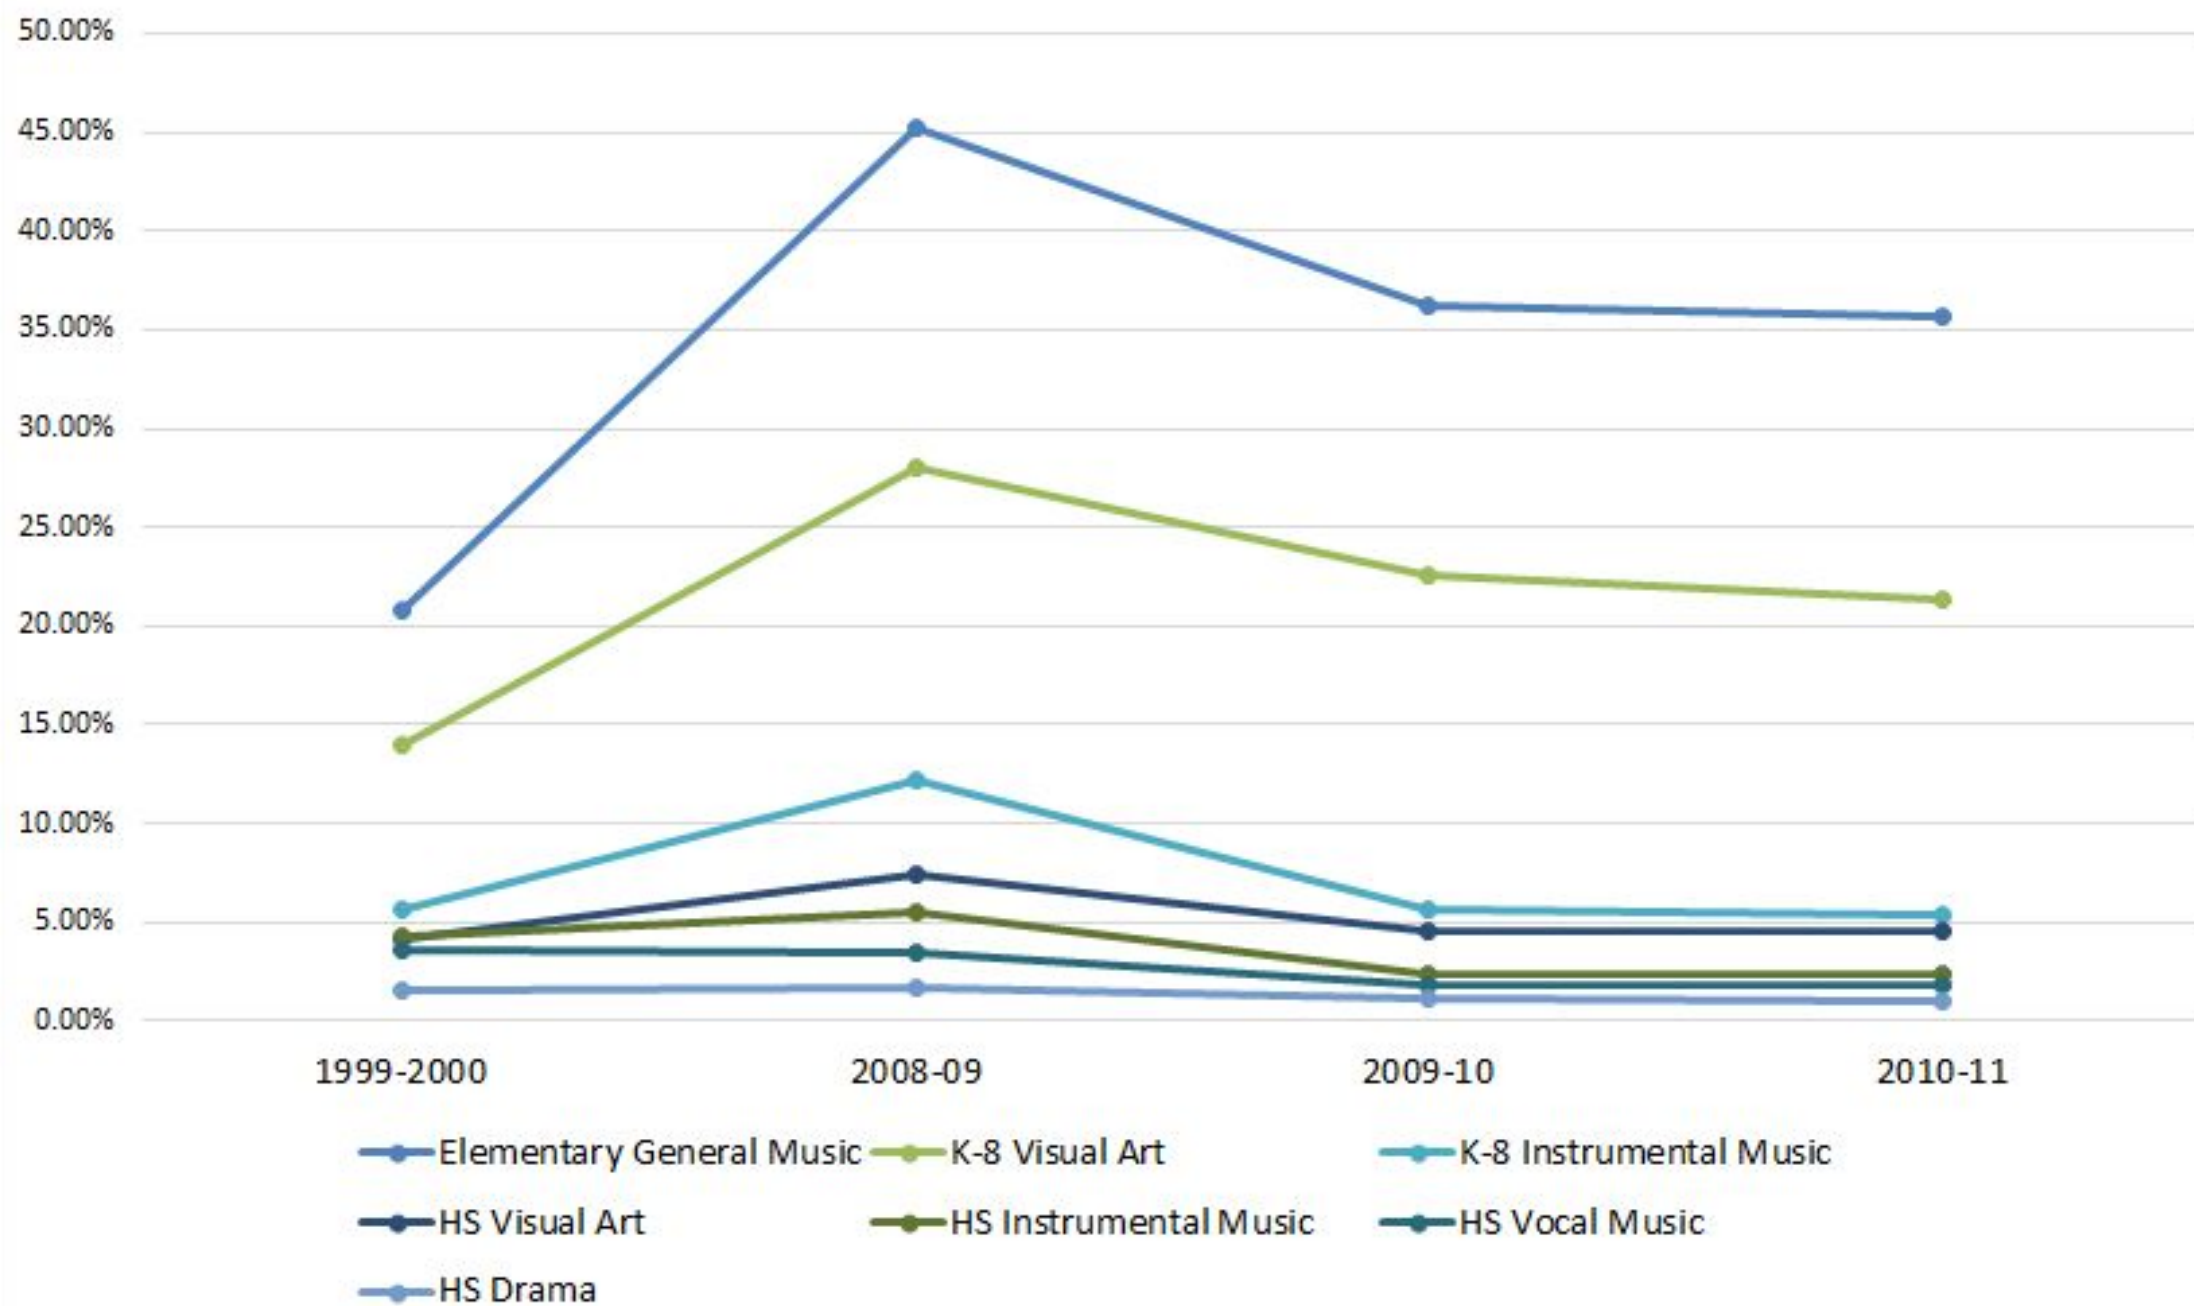

2009-10 - 11,895 students (1.82%)

Data Changes

- Both HS music subjects decreased by about 10,000 students.
- HS drama classes also lost about 2,000 students.

Percentage of Students Enrolled

Current Conclusions

- The 2008-09 school year is the preliminary high point of fine arts instruction in Oklahoma.
 - ◆ Student enrollment
 - ◆ Teachers
- The years following 2008-09 have trended downward.
 - ◆ In 2010-11, there were fewer students enrolled in all areas.
 - ◆ Fewer teachers working all areas.

Where to go next: further data analysis with data from the 2019-20 accreditation report. Full thirty year study available in 2020.

Questions

- What events led to the decrease of fine arts classes after the 2008-09 school year?
 - ◆ Economic downturn
 - ◆ NCLB
 - ◆ Testing focus
 - ◆ Lack of school funding
 - ◆ Lack of new hires in all subject areas

Programs of Excellence

Identify excellence, celebrate dedication, & share wisdom.

Programs of Excellence

FINE ARTS

<https://sde.ok.gov/championexcellence>

Programs of Excellence

Goals for the rubric:

- To raise awareness
- To encourage change
- To promote equity across districts
- To provide a guide to creating high-quality fine arts programs

Programs of Excellence

Caveats:

- Programs of Excellence are optional.
- Variation in status across a district.

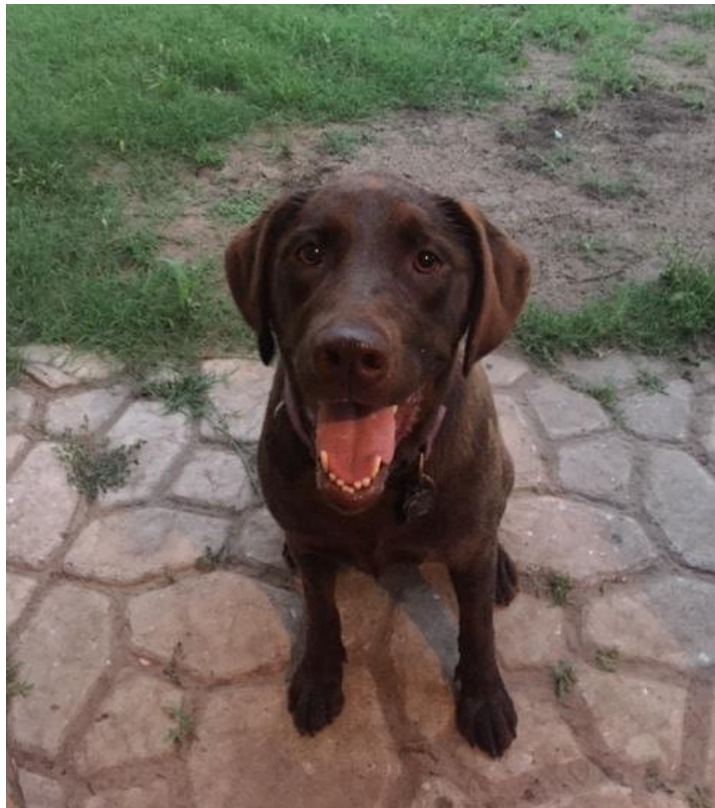

“Real art is one of the most powerful forces in the rise of mankind, and he who renders it accessible to as many people as possible is a benefactor of humanity.”

- Zoltan Kodály
